Is Drafting Teachers Solution to Shortage?

Should young women graduates of all colleges be drafted to teach school in order to meet the teacher shortage?

So says John Fischer, editor-in-chief of Harper's Magazine. A letter to this effect originally published in the New York Times prompted Fischer to second the idea and add that the "national security depends as much on education as on weapons of war."

Better Education Vital

Fischer expressed the belief that we are "falling far behind" the Russians in the production of scientists, linguists, and mathematicians. "To put the argument on the crudest possible grounds," he stated, "better education is vital to the national security; and so far we have no blueprint for getting it . . ."

The Harper's editor advocated a "practical scheme" for drafting women college graduates for a six-month course in basic training for teaching, plus 18 months' service in the school, he concluded that such a system "would not . . . produce first-rate teachers—but second-rate teachers are better than none at all."

Majority Against

Russ Phelps, sophomore secondary education major, said, "According to the principles of John Locke, upon which the ideals of our country are founded, man should be free to improve himself in the manner which he chooses. He should be free to make wrong as well as right decisions. The drafting of teachers would force upon individual women the very opposite of these principles to enforce this and similar proposals. This would be a tremendous step toward authoritarian doctrine."

Drafting Not Solution

"Drafting teachers would not be

Campus Comment

Dear Editor:

I was thrilled to read in the last issue of the GATEWAY that the Student Council will again sponsor a picnic-playday on Maie Day.

Last year at least 20 OU students showed up for the playday and they all had a grand time because the Student Council provided Monopoly boards for all who were interested.

Since few students ever have time for such attractions as Monopoly, Parchese and Flinch, practically no one would pass up this fine opportunity for participation.

This years plans include an excursion through the Elmwood golf course for all interested ornithologists.

Student Council members have been practically over-exerting themselves this year, working on this project. By May 11, they should have all the monopoly money taped back together and the Flinch cards marked. It would be a tragedy close to disastrous if the students at the University of Omaha fail to take advantage of such rare opportunities.

Sincerely,
Interested Observer.

Several years ago an educator spoke in convocation on the subject of "Academic Dry Rot." The educator left his manuscript in the college library and a library student assistant filed it under Fungi.

Is Anything Left Unsaid?

What happens when a reporter fails to write an assigned story? Does the ultra-clever page editor sit down and write five inches of brilliant scintillating copy and assign it to the empty space with will abandon? No, she writes something like this. Something like? This is this!

It's 4:20 p. m. on D Day (Deadline Day) and the inspiration to write something interesting and thought-provoking has long since left this editor's mind.

There's the joke about . . . but that had better wait for a coffee break or a party . . . better yet, a description of the GATEWAY office as it looks on D Day

Three reporters looking tired (to be truthful, haggard) beat out words on their typewriters, smoked cigarettes dot the floor, three waste baskets are overflowing with crumpled copy paper and not a pencil around. Candy wrappers, school books, and empty coffee cups are in abundance, however.

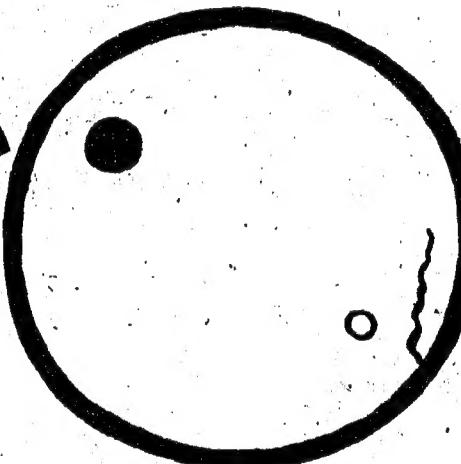

Two large clocks hang in conspicuous places silently bellowing the fact that deadline hour is past . . . and that means this story(?) is due at the printers.

Jaycees Sponsor Contest To Boost 'Old West State'

The Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce and other Nebraska Jaycees are taking part in the Nebraska Old West Contest April 16 through May 7 in this area.

Everyone is eligible for this contest. The Jaycees are seeking to develop the theme "Nebraska the Old West State" as a tourist attraction.

Rich History

Each year millions of tourists cross Nebraska completely unaware that Nebraska has a rich Western history and that famous western personages such as Buffalo Bill and Wild Bill Hickock once lived here.

Stories from each county will be sent to a state-wide contest to determine the best Old West stories.

To Award Prizes

Prizes of $100, $50, $25, $15 and $10 will be given for the stories judged best. The Nebraska Motel Association is donating these prizes. Winning stories will be given newspaper publicity and stories entered may be used later in various ways to promote Nebraska as the "Old West State."

Events in the stories must have occurred prior to 1900 and must be based on fact.

Contest Rules

The writer is to furnish sources of material. All entries must be received on or before Monday, May 7. Stories will be judged on the basis of interest, truth, and whether they present new information not generally known already.

The author's name must not be placed on the story but a slip of paper with his name and address must accompany it. Some proof of the truth of the story must also be submitted.

Direct entries to Mr. George Reinhardt, chairman, Old West Story Contest, Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce, 18th and Dodge Streets, Omaha, Nebraska.

Library Tries New Project

The Gene Eppley Library has placed orders for a section of paper-backed books, ranging from the complete works of Shakespeare to modern American novels.

These selections will not be catalogued and shelved in their respective locations, but will be placed in four separate browsing areas for students.

Circulate for Students

The "paper-backs" will be stocked in the book store so students may build an effective and interesting home library. In the Library they will circulate for home use on a loan basis.

According to Miss Ellen Lord, University librarian, "The 'paper-back' industry is spreading by leaps and bounds, and the encouraging thing is in the quality of works offered."

Priced Low

An appealing feature of the "paper-backs" is their price. Prices run from 25 cents to $2 and for a very small sum a person can build a library of truly great books that otherwise would be most expensive. The selections in the browsing area of the Gene Eppley Library are being introduced to initiate and stimulate wider general reading.

The new editions contain great works such as Pearl Buck's "Dragon Seed," "Treasures of American Folklore," and Norman Douglas' "South Wind."

The project has been tried on many campuses, and student reaction and acceptance has been excellent. They have shown to encourage wider reading and a greater appreciation of the truly great books of both ours and earlier periods.

Alpha Phi Omega To Sponsor Drive

To help the Red Cross keep an adequate supply of blood on hand Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, is sponsoring the annual blood drive today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the West Quonset Hut.

Walk-in donors will be accepted although regular appointments were made April 11 and 12.

A trophy will be awarded to the men's and women's groups with the highest percentage of donors. This year's percentage is being based on only those members who are able to give instead of total membership as in previous years.

Remember, 15 minutes of your time and a pint of your blood may save a life, says Ames.

Dry Test Run Ends In Wet Reception

A warning to future employees of OU's proposed Student Union: Don't try this:

One student's curiosity got the better of him at the University of Illinois. An employee of the student union, he became fascinated by a new-fangled dishwasher recently installed . . . a conveyor belt that sends dishes through 24 feet of soaping and rinsing.

He figured, that if dishes could be washed in it, why not humans?

Since the water was turned off, he began a dry test run, climbing up and stretching out on one end of the conveyor belt.

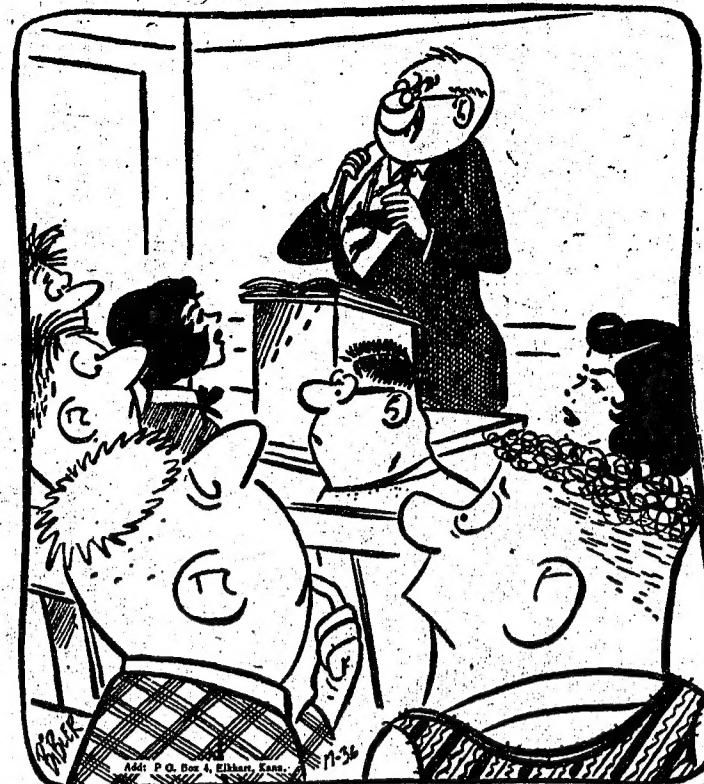

He rode along the belt through the various compartments and as he sailed out the other end, he was "greeted" by a supervisor who happened to be passing by. Result of his curiosity . . . he's no longer an employee of the Student Union.

This Is Progress?

FRESHMAN: I don't know.
SOPHOMORE: I am prepared.
JUNIOR: I do not remember.
SENIOR: I don't believe I can add anything to what has already been said.

College Marriages Can Be Success

(ACP)—There's been a lot of talk about the advantages and disadvantages of getting married while still in college. So, we pass along these observations by Professor Ralph Dakin of the sociology department at Kansas State.

Marriage and college can mix, according to Professor Dakin. He says that married students usually make higher grades. Dakin believes this is due to the increased security and responsibility. Students seem to feel that marriage actually helps their college work. And, in opposition to many studies, Dakin said that the divorce rate for college marriage is lower than for the comparable highly educated persons.

Commenting on the same subject, a Kansas minister has said that college marriages are much more dependent on the couple's level of maturity, the degree to which they want to make a go of marriage, and their common interests than upon the influence of college life. In other words, the success of a college marriage depends upon the same factors that influence any marriage.

Maybe his philosophy stems from the saying that the trouble with the honor system is that professors have the honor and the students have the system.

A Did-you-hear-about weather joke: The ambitious thermometer that went to college to earn his degrees.

You needn't laugh, it was merely an introduction to our Spring weather. You never know what to expect. A few brave girls have tossed away their wools for dark cottons but most are still trudging around in sweaters and skirts. Today it may rain, tomorrow be sunny, and the next day it may snow. The weather is unpredictable.

But you can always predict the success of spring clothes from Brandeis.

Paradoxical as it may seem, raincoats are available in a rainbow of colors this year. And another clue to fashion wisdom is the fact that "raincoats" is now almost an obsolete term.

"Rain and Shine!" such is the new name for those charming coats that you wear (pardon the expression) when it rains! The term stems from the fact that the old-fashioned slicker-type plastic raincoat is a thing of the past.

Raincoats nowadays are in all styles and fabrics and are certainly meant to be worn in all types of spring, summer and fall weather. The coats now in stock at the Brandeis Junior Colony 3rd floor) are appearing in every fabric from flocked flannel to poplin. Other interesting textures are: tweedies, corduroy, gabardine, and the old standby: trench-coat materials.

As mentioned above the colors are a beauty to behold! Pastels to the most vivid and warm colors are abundant. Miracle fabrics that shed wrinkles as well as water (and do not need to be re-treated by the cleaners) are priced from $17.95 to $29.95 at the Junior Colony.

Be prepared for those April Showers—which will probably hit Nebraska in May—and drop in to the city's most advanced Junior shop—Brandeis 3rd floor!—Adv.

Relays Real Treat

That is, unless you are a rabid track and field fan living within a 500 mile radius of Des Moines, Ia. Then your malady has one cause and cure.

Usually blessed by the weather man, the event has become synonymous in sports with punctual operation. Fans set their watches by relay starting times.

Parry Puts Again

This writer has been in the Drake stands each year for the last three years after missing a year following his initial attendance in 1951.

Aside from the display of most of the nation's best collegiate track talent, a special attraction is offered. It always includes one of the world's best in a track or field event.

This time it will be Parry O'Brien with another top shot tosser for exhibition competition. The world shot put record holder showed in Des Moines two years past for a similar performance.

He flipped the iron ball over 60 feet then, but it wasn't a record. His event was an exhibition.

The top individual at Drake the last several years was Wes Santee. He appeared as a Kansas star and in an exhibition mile in 1955.

The lean miler was always colorful in his white-flecked blue suit and cowboy boots. And his finishing spurt in the mile or half was a breath-taking model of graceful running.

Then there are the girls.

Schools entering at Drake also enter a Relays Queen candidate. The Red and Black is represented by Gayle Martin whose charms are evident on the upper half of this page.

A Moral Victory

Inexperience on the OU side was the main reason for giving the Alumni a heavy pre-game edge. Only Bill Flockhardt, Frank Hahn and Fred Moyer had seen many starting assignments.

But a bevy of youngsters plus semi-experienced gridsters joined the veteran trio. And the talented and rugged grads couldn't cross the goal stripe.

Burmester looked good alongside such competing ends as Rudy Rotella and Dick Cotton. Coach Cardwell was particularly impressed by Paulsen's poise in the backfield.

With spring practice over, Cardwell is forced to keep his fingers crossed and hope that when fall comes the campus will blossom with healthy guards and tackles.

Here they are: Confidence, Coordination, Concentration, Condition, Courage-at-impact, Fortitude-sticktoitiveness, Determination, Stamina, Quickness and Speed.

If Drake Relays judges agree with members of the OU Tomahawk staff, Sophomore Gayle Martin will appear as Queen at the track meet Apr. 28. Gayle, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, represents OU and the track squad. She was "Typical Freshman Girl" last year. No OU candidate has ever earned the coveted crown. Each University entered in the Relays is eligible to offer a candidate.

Behind by Four, OU Comes Back

A slow start and fast finish featured Omaha University's 10-6 win over Bueana Vista Tuesday.

Trailing 6-2, the Indians picked up two runs in the third inning and three in the fourth to gain a 7-6 lead. OU ran their total to ten in the seventh to insure victory.

Omaha drew first blood after holding the Beavers scoreless in the top half of the first inning.

Then the roof temporarily fell in. Bueana Vista coupled five hits with an error made by Omaha's leftfielder Dave Langevin for five runs.

Omaha added another run in their half of the second after two were out.

The Beavers ended their scoring for the afternoon with a run in the third. Schaetzle in the five-and-two-thirds innings he pitched, gave up five hits. He was credited with the win.

In the hitting department Cal Helme lead the Indians with three singles in four at bats. Johnson contributed two doubles.

Intramural Roundup

By Dick Paulson

Theta Chi roared through both divisions of the 1956 men's Intramural volleyball league without suffering a single defeat.

They won the 'mural flag by killing down ten consecutive wins. The Interfraternity championship was snared with an unblemished 6-0 record.

Sig Eps also finished second in the frat race. Their final mark of 4 and 2 bested two other Greek entries.

A note of discord was sounded with Phi Beta Chi ending the season winless in both divisions. The game but luckless lads hurt their own chances by contributing final round forfeitures.

Golfers Lose Two Matches

The stand-bys include the shot put, discus, broad jump, pole vault and high jump classes.

Track offers the 100-yd., 220-yd., 440-yd., and 880-yd. dashes, mile run, 120-yd. high and 220-yd. low hurdles, and 880-yd. relay, in addition to a newly-introduced mile relay.

All outdoor track records date back to the 1949 and 1950 seasons.

Two of these thirteen records—the 100-yd. and 220-yd. dashes—belong to Merrill Gee, now a member of the varsity cindermen.

Coach Gorr is hopeful that several new marks will be established. He would also like to discover some future varsity potential during the 'mural' meet.

Omaha University golfers lost their first two matches of the season.

Thursday, April 5, Midland College took the measure of the Indians, 8½-3½, at Fremont,

Nebraska University had no trouble in overwhelming the Indians,

He downed Larry Larson, 2½-½. Harry Curtis, Omaha's number one golfer, contributed the other point while losing to Bob Nelson, 2-1.

Trio Of Track Victories For OU's Red And Black

Although boxed in three times in the first four laps, Omaha's Larry Means turned in a last lap rally to win by two yards.

South Dakota U. finished second with 32½ points. Nebraska Wesleyan scored with 25½ and Wayne Teachers marked 20½.

Barnes Sets Mark

Bob Barnes established the only record of the day. He ran the 440 in :59.9 to shatter his own week-old record.

Brother Bill Barnes was clocked at :07 in the 60-yard lows to equal the mark in this event.

The most exciting race of the day came in the 880-yard run.

Two records were established and one was equaled as the OU track squad won the opening triangular meet at Omaha Apr. 4.

Dana was second with 66 points and Midland made 19. The Indians finished with a total of 85 points.

880 Relay Mark Falls

The Omaha 880-yard relay team of Dave Piller, Tom Jones, Loyd Hunter and Bill Barnes was clocked at a record 1:34.7.

OU's Larry Means, Tom Davis, Jim Dempsey, and Bob Barnes won the mile relay in 3:37.8.

Dana's Ron Petrik threw the shot put 42 feet 10 inches to better the old mark set in 1955.

Barnes Equals Own Record

Consistent record-breaker Bill Barnes won the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.5 to equal his own two-year-old record.

Brother Bob took first in the 220-yard dash. The 880-yard run was won by Omaha's Larry Means in 2:07.

Dick May, Dave Garret, and Dennis Brewster ended in a three-way tie for first in the pole vault enabling the Indians to run away with this event.

Repeat Title at SDU

OU's formidable track squad successfully defended their South

The Indians racked up a total of 65 points to easily out-distance South Dakota U., who finished second with 49½. Nine teams competed in the meet.

Freshman Lloyd Hunter scored 14½ points to turn in the top performance of the day.

Hunter won the broad jump and finished second in the high and low hurdles.

The incomparable Barnes brothers did a yeoman job. Bill tied records in the 120 highs and the 220 lows.

Brother Bob ran the 220-yard dash in :22 to tie the record set in 1953.

Omaha's 880 yard relay team was clocked at a blistering 1:33 to win this event.

Four Men Form 'Nucleus' Of Building, Grounds Crew

"The nucleus of the crew" is how Alden Aust, Superintendent of Building and Grounds, refers to that department's four veteran members—Henry Hanna, Clyde Hiatt, Elmer Johnson and Earl Spangler.

A total among them of nearly 60 years of service at OU accounts for Mr. Aust's dependency upon these four men who "know procedures" to train new people.

Senior Member Is Hiatt

Senior member of the group is Clyde Hiatt, who has been with the department since the present main building opened in 38. Now Engineer in the main building, Hiatt observed that the students themselves had changed little over the period of years—their attitudes and personalities were much the same.

Seconding Hiatt's observation was Elmer Johnson, assistant to Mr. Aust, although many freshmen were "much older" then, he added, because of the great influx of armed forces veterans returning to school.

Lot 'Not Even Filled'

The Administration building and the Student Center were the only ones on campus when Mr. Johnson joined the staff in 1946, and the upper parking lot (the only one) was "not even filled during rush hour."

Earl Spangler worked for the nursery concern which landscaped the OU grounds, then joined the University staff in June, 1939. "There were no athletic fields then," said Mr. Spangler, "only grass in front of the building and extending westward to the fence" to care for as compared with the extensive landscaping now under the Grounds Foreman's supervision.

'Students Good Bunch'

"The students," said Mr. Spangler, "have always been a good bunch."

"I don't know where to begin," commented Henry Hanna when recalling the additions to the campus occurring during his 15 years on campus. "The student body, which has more than tripled and new classrooms, accommodations have combined to require a staff of eleven to work under the afternoon cleaning foreman—more than double the wartime requirement when enrollment fell to approximately 800 students.

"As changes occur, we must rely upon the men of long service," said Mr. Aust. "they're invaluable."

Alpha Lambda Delta To Initiate Members

New members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary, received pledge ribbons at pledging ceremonies Wednesday. Membership is obtained by attaining a 3.5 average during the first semester or the first year of a women's college career.

New members will receive their pins Wednesday at initiation ceremonies. A banquet, the election of officers and entertainment will follow initiation.

Entertainment will consist of a vocal solo by Bonnie Sorensen and a skit Virginia Frank, Shirley Lang, Sue Moss, Kay Talty and Camille Wells, will appear in the skit.

Oleson Represents OU At National Convention

Dr. Gal Oleson, head of the Bureau of Testing, Counseling, and Research, attended the American Personnel and Guidance Association Convention at Washington, D. C. Mar. 25-29.

There was a total of 2,134 counselors present at the convention, with 47 of the 48 states represented. There were also representatives from Egypt, Canada and Puerto Rico.

"The OU counseling program compares well to the other college services of the U.S.," reported Dr. Oleson.

Student Writers Contribute Work To 'Grain of Sand'

Six short stories and two poems were chosen to represent the work of creative writing students at the University of Omaha.

The work will appear in this semester's issue of "Grain of Sand," together with the winning high school short story and poetry contributions.

"It was hard to choose the best contributions," commented Kay Talty, a member of the "Grain of Sand" editorial board. "This year we had many worthwhile entries with much variety shown in the writing."

Short stories appearing in the issue of the literary magazine are "One Less Cheer" by Don Digilio, "Sacred Fire" by Marcia Morris, "Home for Christmas" by Sue Moss, "The Wanderer" by David Parrish, "Next Case" by Jerry Emery, "Jonesy Jones Gets It Young" by Stanley Charnofsky, and "Abstract I" by Sandy Dungan.

Poems to be published are "Utopia" by Miss Dungan and "M. D." by Mary Jo Lasell.

Future Teachers To Meet Here

New and past officers of the Omaha University chapter of Future Teachers of America will be delegates to the state FTA convention at the Gene Eppley Memorial Library tomorrow.

The session will include reports from Nebraska chapters, election of state FTA officers and installation of new state chapters and officers.

Speaker for the noon luncheon in the student center dining room will be James Porterfield, director of teacher placement at OU and secretary of Nebraska School Boards Association. His remarks will include what is expected of the future teacher.

Dr. Paul Kennedy, head of the secondary education department at OU will welcome all delegates to the convention.

Committees working on the state meeting include Jean Mathiasen, Jackie Snyder, Bernadine Vogler and Janet Wolfe, registration. In charge of the coffee hour are Mary Lou Hoffman, Sally Linedemoor, and Lois Proffit. Janet Hanson and Betty Post will handle publicity, and Eleanor Engle is in charge of decorations.
